c) Environmental Social Governance:

Environmental social governance is defined as the environmental policy that calls for sustainable development and the management of all human, political, social, and economic activities. This concept is the basis for the attention that the Company pays to sustainable development by diversifying its energy sources. Since 2015, the Company has found solutions to rationalize the consumption of petroleum fuels and gradually substitute them with alternative fuels, and invested in a unit intended for utilizing wasted heat to generate energy with a view to producing clean energy of up to 16 megawatts, and to find alternative raw materials to reduce carbon emissions in general, so that the continued operation of all production lines is ensured and as per industry best standards and practices are implemented. Moreover, in 2020, the Company established a branch called "Green Solutions Environmental Services Company" in order to realize its vision of a sustainable environment.

In addition, CCC supports social contributions relating to the Environment:

- 1. Sponsored the Vision of Solar Energy Conference – Qassim University.
- 2. Supported MEWA's Environment Week – Shaqra Governorate.

VIII. Human Resources

With the aim of achieving its goals in terms of developing and training its human resources, CCC has adopted specialized programs for personnel selection, development and career planning to ensure that positions are filled by qualified and distinguished national competencies. CCC also encourages staff to participate positively in the development of the Company and creates a suitable working environment that promotes teamwork, while continuing to strengthen their skills and qualifications to boost their level of performance. The Company has nationalized many leadership positions and employed national personnel in several departments.

Furthermore, the Company continues to cooperate with local and global entities specialized in providing technical, managerial and marketing training services, in addition to holding in-house workshops and considering the possibility of sending national personnel on scholarships in the cement industry domain within the Kingdom and/or abroad in the future. It is worth noting that the Company is classified within the Nitaqat Green Range.

IX. Risks

As CCC pays high attention to potential risks resulting from the competition that the Company anticipates at the domestic level, it regularly reviews these risks and establish appropriate measures to address them. It should be noted that the risks described below do not include all the risks that the Company could face, for it is possible that there other risks that are not known to the Company at the present time or which the Company deems to be either rare risks or risks with little impact:

- Operational and marketing risks:The Company pays attention to the potential risks resulting from the competition anticipated at the local level owing to domestic cement companies' high inventories. The Company monitors and regularly reviews these and operational risks and establish appropriate measures to address and contain them and to ensure the continuity of fuel supplies from Saudi Aramco..
- Economic risk:The domestic and global economic situation may have a direct impact on the future business of the Company, including changes in sales performance, the level of market liquidity and financing costs, industrial recession, competition from foreign countries and manufacturers, technical development, prices of fuel, inputs and the Company's end products, inflation, political events that could impact on corporate markets, exchange rate volatility, and product alternatives that could have an impact on the Company 's business and revenue.

- Risks related to laws and regulations: The running of the Company's business is governed by multiple laws and regulations. Any changes to or replacements of these laws and regulations by any government entity, regulatory body or judicial authority, or the issuance of an order ceasing the Company's business, or all or some of the Company's products, could impact on the Company's business and revenue.
- Risk from focusing on certain customers: Thankfully, the Company's products cover a wide range of customers. The Company depends on distributors for the distribution of its products. If any customer or a group of customers or distributers incurred losses, stopped dealing with the Company or otherwise failed to abide by the established criteria for selling the Company's products, this would impact on the Company's business and revenue.
- Risk from the Company's geographical location and natural disasters: All the Company's business is concentrated in one location. Any directive suspending the Company's business in this location or any natural disasters such as floods or earthquakes occurring therein would have an impact on the Company's business and revenue.
- Risk related to mining rights: Mining is an essential part of the Company's activity and mining rights are granted to the Company by the Saudi government's relevant authorities. If those mining rights are canceled or any restrictions imposed thereon, the Company's ability to operate the plant may be affected and as a consequence there would be serious adverse repercussions for the Company's financial position and results of operations.
- Risk related to energy supplies: Cement production consumes large quantities of energy, which account for a large portion of production costs. Therefore, any rise in fuel prices will have a negative impact on the Company's business, financial position and results of operations. Also, failure to secure the required amount of fuel for the second line would have an ongoing negative and substantial effect on the Company.

X. Corporate Governance

The Company applies all the provisions set out in CMA's Governance Regulations, except for those listed below:

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To The Shareholders of City Cement Company
A Saudi Joint Stock Company

Riyadh - Kingdom of Saudi Arabia

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of City Cement Company - a Saudi Joint Stock Company ("the Company"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 December 2020, and the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, statement of changes in equity, and statement of cash flows for the year then ended, and other explanatory notes, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2020, its financial performance, and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs") as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, and other standards and pronouncements approved by the Saudi Organization of Certified Public Accountants (SOCPA).

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the "Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report". We are independent of the Company in accordance with professional code of conduct and ethics, as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other matter

The financial statements of the Company for the year ended 31 December 2019 were audited by another auditor who expressed an unmodified opinion on those statements on 15 March 2020.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements for the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Attendance at physical inventory counting
Key audit matter	How the matter was addressed during our audit
As described in Note 8, the carrying value of the Company's inventory as at 31 December 2020 was Saudi Riyals 145,146,260.	- Obtained management's physical inventory counting instructions to understand and assess their instructions and procedures regarding the cut off procedures (details of inventory movement just prior to, during and after the count inventory), and the recoding of the actual counts of the Company's inventory.
The carrying value includes work in progress inventory - clinker amounting to Saudi Riyals 55,250,346.	- Evaluated the competency, capabilities, and objectivity of the inspection team used by management in counting the clinker inventory.
The Company uses procedures to estimate the physical quantity of clinker inventory by estimating the piles of clinker pile available at year end.	- Attended the physical inventory counting conducted by the Company to observe the implementation of the management's procedures for counting, the identification of obsolete, damaged items of inventory, in addition to our test counts performed.
We considered this to be a key audit matter as the inventory is material to the financial statements, in addition to the procedures used by the company to estimate the physical quantity of clinker inventory at the end of the year.	- Obtained a copy of the final listing of the Company's physical inventory, and inspected that it is accurate, complete and reflects the actual inventory counts.
	- Based on our accumulated audit knowledge and experience, evaluated the appropriateness and reasonableness of the procedures used for estimating the physical quantity of clinker inventory piles, and tested the arithmetical accuracy of the used model.
	- Reviewed the adequacy of the Company's disclosures included in the accompanying financial statements for compliance with accounting standards that are relevant to inventory.

Other information

Other information comprises information included in the Company's annual report for the year 2020, but does not include the financial statements and auditor's report thereon. Management is responsible for other information included in its annual report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Management and Those Charged with Governance for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements, in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRSs") as endorsed in the kingdom of Saudi Arabia, and other standards and pronouncements approved by the Saudi Organization of Certified Public Accountants (SOCPA), and Regulations of Companies and the Company's Article of Association, and for such internal control as the management determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Management either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative not to do so.

Those Charged with Governance, in particular the Audit Committee, are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the management use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, relevant preventive measures.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter, or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

(All amounts in Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

2. BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncement that are issued by the Saudi Organization for Certified Public Accountants ("SOCPA").

The financial statements are prepared on a historical cost basis, except for the following significant items included in the statement of financial position in relation to the investments in equity instruments that are measured at fair value.

These financial statements are presented in Saudi Riyals ("SAR"), which is the functional and presentation currency of the Company.

3. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

3.1 New standards, amendments to standards, and interpretation

The Company has applied the following standards and amendments for the first time for their annual reporting period commencing 1 January 2020.

Amendment to IFRS 3 "Business Combinations" - definition of a business

This amendment revises the definition of a business. According to feedback received by IASB, application of the current guidance is commonly thought to be too complex, and it results in too many transactions qualifying as business combinations.

Amendments to IAS 1 and IAS 8 on the definition of material

These amendments to IAS 1, "Presentation of financial statements", and IAS 8 "Accounting policies, changes in accounting estimates and errors", and consequential amendments to other IFRSs:

- Use a consistent definition of materiality throughout IFRSs and the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting;
- Clarify the explanation of the definition of material; and
- Incorporate some of the guidance in IAS 1 about immaterial information.

Amendments to IFRS 9, IAS 39 and IFRS 7 - Interest Rate Benchmark Reform (phase 1)

These amendments provide certain reliefs in connection with interest rate benchmark reform. The reliefs relate to hedge accounting and have the effect that IBOR reform should not generally, cause hedge accounting to terminate. However, any hedge ineffectiveness should continue to be recorded in the statement of profit or loss.

The adoption of the above amendments do not have any material impact on the financial statements during the year.

(All amounts in Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

3.2 Standards issued but not yet effective

Following are the new standards and amendments to standards which are effective for annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2021 and earlier application is permitted, however, the Company has not early adopted them in preparing these financial statements.

Amendments to IAS 1 "Presentation of financial statements" – on classification of liabilities

These narrow-scope amendments to IAS 1 "presentation of financial statements", clarify that liabilities are classified as either current or non-current, depending on the rights that exist at the end of the reporting period. Classification is unaffected by the expectations of the entity or even after the reporting date (for example: the receipt of a waiver or a breach of covenant). The amendment also clarifies what IAS 1 means when it refers to the "settlement" of a liability.

Amendments to IFRS 3, IAS 16 and IAS 37

- IFRS 3 "Business Combinations" update a reference in IFRS 3 to the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting without changing the accounting requirements for business combinations.
- IAS 16 "Property, Plant and Equipment" prohibit an entity from deducting from the cost of property, plant and equipment amounts received from selling items produced while the entity is preparing the asset for its intended use. Instead, an entity will recognize such sales proceeds and related cost in profit or loss.
- IAS 37 "Provisions, Contingent Liabilities, and Contingent Assets" specify which costs an entity includes when assessing whether a contract will be loss-making.

3.3 Annual improvements to IFRSs 2018-2020 cycle

These improvements are effective on or after 1 January 2021.

- IFRS 9 "Financial Instruments" - Clarify the fees an entity includes in performing the "10% test" in order to assess whether to derecognize a financial liability.
- IFRS 16 "Leases" - Remove the potential for confusion regarding lease incentives by amending an illustrative example 13 accompanying IFRS 16.

3.4 Financial instruments

The Company initially recognises financial instruments on the trade date at which the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The Company classifies its financial assets in the following measurement categories:

- those to be measured subsequently at fair value (either through OCI or through profit or loss), and
- those to be measured at amortised cost

The classification depends on the Company's business model for managing the financial assets and the contractual terms of the cash flows.

CITY CEMENT COMPANY
A Saudi Joint Stock Company

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(All amounts in Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows on the financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred. Any interest in the transferred financial asset that is created or retained by the Company is recognised as a separate asset or liability.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is presented in the statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a legal right to offset the amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

The Company has the following financial assets:

Financial Assets at Amortised Cost

Financial assets held for collection of contractual cash flows where those cash flows represent solely payments of principal and interest ("SPPI") are measured at amortised cost. A gain or loss on a debt investment subsequently measured at amortised cost and not part of a hedging relationship is recognised in the statement of profit or loss when the asset is derecognised or impaired. Interest income from these financial assets is included in finance income using the effective interest rate method.

Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income

The debt instrument is measured at fair value by other comprehensive income only if it meets the following conditions and is not recognized at fair value through changes in net assets:

- The asset is held in a business model that is designed to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows and sell the financial assets.
- The contractual terms of the financial asset lead on specific dates to cash flows that are only the payments from the principal amount and interest on the principal amount due.

Debt instruments measured at fair value through other comprehensive income are subsequently measured at fair value while recognizing the profits and losses resulting from changes in fair value in other comprehensive income. Financing income, foreign exchange gains and losses are carried at the statement of profit or loss.

Equity instruments: On initial recognition, to invest in non-traded shares, the Company may apply an irrevocable option to make subsequent changes in fair value in other comprehensive income. The presented amounts in other comprehensive income are not subsequently transferred to the statement of profit or loss.

Financial assets at fair value through changes in net assets

All other financial assets are classified as measured at fair value through the statement of profit or loss (for example: shares held for trading and debt securities that are not classified based on amortized cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income).

Impairment of financial assets

For accounts receivables, the Company applies the simplified approach, which requires expected lifetime losses to be recognised from initial recognition of the receivables. Expected loss rates were derived from historical information of the Company and are adjusted to reflect the expected future outcome.

CITY CEMENT COMPANY

(All amounts in Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities are recognised initially on the trade date, which is the date that the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition these financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

The Company derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged, cancelled or expired.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount is presented in the statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a legal right to offset the amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

Non-derivative financial liabilities of the Company comprise of trade and other payables.

De-recognition of financial liabilities

The Company derecognises the financial liability (or part of the financial liability) from its statement of financial position when it is extinguished; that is when the obligation specified in the contract is paid or cancelled or discharged.

Amortized cost for financial asset or liability

The amortized cost of a financial asset or a financial liability is the amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is measured at initial recognition less prepayments of the principal amount, plus or less the cumulative amortization using the effective interest method of any difference between that initial amount and the amount at the accrual date.

3.5 Revenue recognition

Revenue represents the fair value of the consideration received or receivable for goods sold, net of returns, trade discounts and volume rebates. The Company recognizes revenue when a customer obtains controls of the goods at a point in time i.e. on delivery and acknowledgement of goods.

The goods are often sold with retrospective volume discounts based on aggregate sales over a 12 months period. Revenue from these sales is recognised based on the price specified in the contract, net of the estimated volume discounts. Accumulated experience is used to estimate and provide for the discounts, using the expected value method, and revenue is only recognised to the extent that it is highly probable that a significant reversal will not occur. The related liability (included in trade and other payables) is recognised for expected volume discounts payable to customers in relation to sales made during the year.

No element of financing component is deemed present as the sales are made either on cash or on credit term consistent with market practice.

3.6 Property, plant and equipment

Property, Plant and Equipment are measured at cost, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any. Cost comprises of expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. Cost includes the reclassifications from equity of any gains or losses on qualifying cash flow hedges relating to purchases of Property, Plant and Equipment. Cost includes expenditures that are directly attributable to the acquisition / growing of the plant till its maturity. Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of Property, Plant and Equipment is recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

(All amounts in Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company and amount can be measured reliably.

The Company has strategic and reserve spare parts that must be available for the production lines at its plant, and are classified under property and equipment, and subject to depreciation over the useful life of the asset associated with those spare parts.

The useful life of property, plant and equipment are reviewed at the end of each year. If the estimated useful life is different from previously estimated, the carrying amount of the asset is depreciated over the remaining useful life after reassessment of the year in which the revision was made.

The cost less estimated residual value is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the following estimated useful lives of the assets by using the following annual depreciation rates:

Machinery and Equipment	4 %
Buildings and roads	3 – 10 %
Mobile equipment	6.67 %
Vehicles	20 %
Furniture and fixtures	15 %

Land and capital work in progress are not depreciated.

Capital work in progress at year end includes certain assets that have been acquired but are not ready for their intended use. These assets are transferred to relevant assets categories and are depreciated once they are available for their intended use.

The assets' residual values, useful lives and impairment indicators are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if considered necessary.

If significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives then they are accounted for as separate items of property, plant and equipment

3.7 Leases

The Company assesses whether a contract is a lease or contains a lease. The contract is a lease or contains a lease if it gives the right of use a specific asset for a period of time in exchange for a compensation.

CITY CEMENT COMPANY

(All amounts in Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

Right-of-use assets and lease liabilities

Assets and liabilities arising from a lease are initially measured on a present value basis.

Right-of-use assets are measured at cost comprising the following:

- the amount of the initial measurement of lease liability;
- any lease payments made at or before the commencement date less any lease incentives received;
- any initial direct costs; and - restoration costs.

Right-of-use assets are subsequently measured at cost less accumulated depreciation.

Lease liabilities include the net present value of the following lease payments:

- fixed payments (including in-substance fixed payments), less any lease incentives receivable;
- variable lease payments that are based on an index or a rate;
- amounts expected to be payable by the lessee under residual value guarantees;
- the exercise price of a purchase option if the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise that option; and
- payments of penalties for terminating the lease, if the lease term reflects the lessee exercising that option.

The lease payments are discounted using the incremental borrowing rate, being the rate that the lessee would have to pay to borrow the funds necessary to obtain an asset of similar value in a similar economic environment with similar terms and conditions.

Payments associated with short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognized on a straight-line basis as an expense in the Statement of Profit or Loss. Short-term leases are leases with a lease term of 12 months or less. Low-value assets comprise small items relating to office equipment.

Lease terms are negotiated on an individual basis and contain a wide range of different terms and conditions. In determining the lease term, management considers all facts and circumstances that create an economic incentive to exercise an extension option, or not exercise a termination option. Extension options are only included in the lease term if the lease is reasonably certain to be extended. In determining the lease term, the management generally considers certain factors including historical lease durations and the costs and business disruption required to replace the leased asset.

3.8 Intangible assets

Intangible assets that include software programs, which acquired by the Company and have a finite useful life (5 years), are measured at cost less accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment losses.

The Company applies annual depreciation rates to its Intangible assets:

- Software licenses 20%

Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure are capitalized only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates. All other expenses incurred internally are recognized in profit or loss when incurred.

CITY CEMENT COMPANY

(All amounts in Saudi Riyals unless otherwise stated)

Amortization

Amortization is charged to the cost of intangible assets less the residual value using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, and recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

The residual values of intangible assets, their useful lives and impairment indicators are reviewed at the end of each financial year and adjusted prospectively where necessary.

3.9 Impairment of non-financial assets

Non-financial assets are reviewed at each reporting date to identify circumstances indicating occurrence of impairment loss or reversal of impairment loss. If any such indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset is estimated in order to determine the extent of the impairment loss or reversal of impairment loss (if any).

When it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an individual asset, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. When a reasonable and consistent basis of allocation can be identified, corporate assets are also allocated to individual cash-generating units, or otherwise they are allocated to the smallest Company of cash-generating units for which a reasonable and consistent allocation basis can be identified. Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives and intangible assets not yet available for use are tested for impairment at least annually, and whenever there is an indication that the asset may be impaired. Recoverable amount is the higher of fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset for which the estimates of future cash flows have not been adjusted.

If the recoverable amount of an asset (or cash-generating unit) is estimated to be less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount of the asset (or cash-generating unit) is reduced to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognised immediately in the statement of profit or loss.

When an impairment loss subsequently reverses, the carrying amount of the asset (or a cash-generating unit) is increased to the revised estimate of its recoverable amount, but so that the increased carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset (or cash-generating unit) in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognised immediately in the statement of profit or loss.

3.10 Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost is determined using the weighted average method. Cost comprises all direct manufacturing expenditure based on the normal level of activity and transportation and handling costs. Net realisable value comprises estimated selling price less further production costs to completion and appropriate selling and distribution costs. Allowance is made, where necessary for slow moving inventories. Cost of inventories is recognised as an expense and included in cost of sales.

Spares are valued at lower of cost or net realizable value. Cost is determined on the weighted average cost basis. An allowance for obsolete and slow-moving items, if any, is estimated at each reporting date.

3.11 Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of statement of financial position, cash and bank balances include bank balances, cheques in hand and deposits with original maturities of three months or less, if any.

Employee Retirement benefits are payable to all employees employed under the terms and conditions of the Labour Laws applicable on the Company, on termination of their employment contracts.

The Company's obligation in respect of defined benefit plan is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefits that employees have earned in current and prior periods and discounting that amount to arrive at present value.

The Company sets the assumptions used in determining the key elements of the costs of meeting such future obligations. These assumptions are set after consultation with the Company's actuaries and include those used to determine regular service costs and the financing elements related to the liabilities. The calculation of defined benefit obligation is performed by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method.

Re-measurement of defined benefit liability, which comprise of actuarial gains and losses are recognised immediately in the statement of other comprehensive income. The Company determines interest expense on the defined benefit obligation for the period by applying the discount rate used to measure the defined benefit obligation at the beginning of the annual period, taking into account any change in the net defined benefit obligation during the period as a result of contributions and benefit payments. Net interest expense and other expenses related to defined benefit are recognised in the statement of profit or loss.

3.14 Provisions

3.17 Segmental reporting

Operating segment is a component of the Company that engages in business activities from which it earns revenue and incurs costs including income and expenses related to transactions with any other elements of the company.

3.18 Fair value measurement of financial instruments

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Underlying the definition of fair value is the presumption that the Company is a going concern and there is no intention or requirement to curtail materially the scale of its operations or to undertake a transaction on adverse terms.

A financial instrument is regarded as quoted in an active market if quoted prices are readily and regularly available from an exchange dealer, broker, industry Company, pricing service, or regulatory agency, and those prices represent actual and regularly occurring market transactions on an arm's length basis.

When measuring the fair value the Company uses market observable data as far as possible. Fair values are categorized into different levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows.

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that can be accessed at the measurement date.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included in Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices).

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

3.19 Foreign currency translation

Foreign currency transactions are translated into Saudi Riyals at the rates of exchange prevailing at the time of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are translated into Saudi Riyals at the exchange rates prevailing at that date. Gains and losses from settlement and translation of foreign currency transactions are included in profit or loss.

3.20 Dividends

Dividends is recognized in the financial statements when it is approved by the General Assembly of shareholders for annual distributions.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND ASSUMPTIONS

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards requires management to use judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts of income, expenses, assets and liabilities appearing in the financial statements, the accompanying notes attached to the financial statements, and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities. However, the uncertainty involved in these assumptions and estimates may lead to significant adjustments to the carrying amount of assets or liabilities that may be affected in future periods.

In the context of applying the company's accounting policies, management has made judgments that have a material impact on the amounts recognized in the financial statements. In addition to the main assumptions that have been considered when assessing the impact of future conditions on the figures appearing in the financial statements and the related disclosures at the date of preparing the financial statements, which have substantial risks associated with them that may cause significant adjustments to the carrying values of assets and liabilities during the next financial year. The company relied in its estimates and assumptions on the existing conditions and available information when preparing the financial statements. However, existing circumstances and assumptions about foreseeable developments may change as a result of market changes and circumstances beyond the control of the Company. These changes are reflected in the assumptions as they occur.

A) Estimated useful life of property, plant and equipment

The cost of property, plant and equipment depreciated over the estimated useful life of the asset based on the expected use and obsolescence of the asset, the maintenance and repair program, technical obsolescence and the recoverable value considerations of the asset. Management reviews the residual value of property, plant and equipment and useful lives annually and change in depreciation charges where the management believe that the useful life differs than the past estimating.

B) Strategic and reserve spare parts

The Company maintains strategic and reserve spare parts inventory for two production lines in its plant, which the management aims to maintain for longer periods more than one year. The management believes that all spare parts will be provided with future economic benefits from the future use of all property, plant and equipment. The management reviews spare parts that are in reserve equipment, which should be available as needed and depreciated with the estimated useful life of the associated asset.

C) Actuarial valuation of employees' end of service benefits liabilities

The employees' end-of-service benefits liability is determined according to a defined unfunded benefit plan and measured using actuarial evaluation. Actuarial evaluation includes many assumptions that may differ from the actual future developments. These assumptions include the determination of the discount rate and future salary increases and turnover rate. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit liability is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. Thus, all assumptions are reviewed once a year or more often, as deemed necessary.

D) Provision for rehabilitation of areas subject to franchise license

The provision for rehabilitation of areas subject to franchise license is recognised at the present value of the expected cost of rehabilitation of the site and the company's factory land. The current value of the provision estimated at the expected present value of the end of the factory lifespan, and the company relied on the renewal of the current quarry license after its expiry at the initial measurement of the current value of the provision.
