Executing your audit

Our Approach And Reporting

The Audit and Reviews

Our audit approach evolves as we learn more about your business and its operations, and adapts to technological advances and changes in regulatory requirements. As a result, we constantly review and challenge the methods we are using, in order that we continue to provide a first-class service that adds value to your business.

We follow a risk-based approach and our substantive testing is supplemented, where possible, with IT audit and data analytics. These techniques allow us to review large populations of data and focus our audit testing on the exceptions identified. Our use of IT audit specialists within the business can increase the coverage of our audit testing and achieve efficiencies in the audit process. We also review the general IT environment of our clients and provide feedback to management on areas of potential improvement.

During the audit process, where opportunities are identified to improve internal controls, or potential areas where efficiencies could be gained, we will report these to management in our closing meeting and issue a management report detailing these thereafter.

Emphasis on Understanding Your Environmental Controls

Attaining and continually helping management to enhance confidence in the controls will be a primary objective of our engagement. Our audit effectiveness is much greater when we are able to rely on controls and financial management procedures at a level that permits greater attention to those items where risks and/or exceptions are identified. We will clearly report our findings to management and the board, and make recommendations as appropriate, at the earliest possible date.

For audit objectives where we plan to rely on controls to modify the nature, timing, and extent of our substantive procedures, our control evaluation includes:

- Evaluating the design and implementation of entity-wide controls;
- Understanding the relevant accounting and reporting activities for each audit objective, such as transactions processing, we look for significant risk points / places where errors could occur;
- Evaluating and testing any antifraud controls you have implemented;
- Evaluating selected controls over the significant risk points where material misstatements may occur;
- Performing a “walkthrough test,” tracing a transaction through the accounting activities and selected controls to confirm that we understand how your accounting activities and controls work; and
- Testing the operating effectiveness of selected controls.

Our Approach And Reporting – Cont'd

Focus on Planning, Quality and Clear Communications

Through comprehensive audit planning and the tracking of scheduled audit activities, we are able to consistently achieve timely results whilst minimizing risks of surprises. Our audit team preliminarily identifies the areas where the risk of material misstatements in the financial statements is the highest. We will do this through structured interviews of upper management, finance team and others, analytical procedures, observation, and inspection to review activities, share observations, and expectations. Specifically, we may consider the financial reporting framework, business and industry, accounting policies and practices, financial performance and internal control.

We will also identify areas where estimates and management judgment could have a material impact on the financial statements. We analyse the significance of risks we have identified and determine our procedures accordingly. Our Planning Matrix links risk to significant accounts and related assertions in the financial statements, and Company's the assertions about these accounts into the audit objectives. These assertions are; completeness, existence, accuracy, value, ownership, and presentation. For each objective, the team assigns a risk level and preliminarily determines an effective combination of tests of internal control, analytical procedures, and tests of individual transactions and balances.

We build up our audit planning procedures properly in order to ensure that it is closely and appropriately aligned with Company's activities, processes and cycles, and we will endeavor to build sound working relationships, fully respectful of our imperatives related to objectivity and independence.

Management Letter

In addition to our audit procedures, we will endeavor to provide you with an added value service via the development and submission of a Management letter depicting areas of improvements whether from internal control perspective or accounting and financial matters.

The report will include the following:

1. Management Letter: Auditing Standards require that auditors should inform their clients either orally or by a formal letter. Our approach requires us to separately report any significant deficiencies relating to internal control structure noted during our audit and bring to your attention any material errors and irregularities or illegal acts of which we become aware of during our audit in the form of a letter which will be submitted, after discussion with Company's management, to the Audit Committee or the Board of Director of the Company.
2. Report on issues along with the recommendations for remedial action.

Audit Responsibilities, Limitations And Reporting Framework

We will conduct our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing “ISA”. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatements.

An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statements presentation.

International Standards on Auditing “ISA” require that we obtain reasonable, rather than absolute, assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatements, whether caused by an error or irregularity. While an effective internal control structure reduces the likelihood that errors or irregularities (including misappropriation of assets) may occur and remain undetected, it does not eliminate that possibility. For that reason and because we use selective testing in our audit, a material misstatement may remain undetected and we cannot guarantee that material errors or irregularities, if present, will be detected.

Our audit should, therefore, not be relied upon to discover defalcations or other irregularities that may have occurred, but their discovery, if they exist, may result from the audit tests that we undertake, and we will report such cases.

Pursuant to professional standards, in the unusual event that we are unable to complete the audit or are unable to form or have not formed an opinion, we may decline to express an opinion or decline to issue a report.

As part of our audit, we will obtain an understanding of the Company's internal control structure solely to plan the audit and determine the nature, timing and extent of our audit procedures. This understanding will not be sufficient to enable us to render a separate opinion on the effectiveness of the internal control structure over financial reporting.

The working papers, prepared in conjunction with our work, are the property of our firm, constitute confidential and proprietary information and will be retained by us in accordance with our firm's policies and procedures.

Management's Responsibilities And Representations And Regulatory Requirements

We remind you that, in accordance with Regulation No. 175 of the Saudi Companies' Regulations, it is the responsibility of the Company's management to prepare the financial statements including adequate disclosures. This includes the maintenance of adequate accounting records and internal controls, the selection and application of accounting policies, and the safeguarding of the Company's assets.

Audit Objectives

- Independent opinion and report that adds credibility to financial information released by the Company

- Observation and recommendation on financial and internal control reporting, zakat, tax and business issues from senior professional who have in-depth understanding of your business and industry.
- Share our experience on industry best practice issues.

- Independent assurance that the financial statements are presented fairly and in accordance with IFRS as endorsed in kingdom of Saudi Arabia
- Communicating areas of high audit risk and explaining the impact on audit approach
- Reporting significant internal control weaknesses identified during the course of the audit

Quarterly Review Of Interim Condensed Financial Statements And Its Regulatory Requirements

We will review the interim condensed financial statements for each quarter in accordance with International Standard on Review Engagements 2410 “Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity” and provide you with a report as required by IFRS – IAS 34 “Interim Financial Reporting” as endorsed in Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

This Standard requires the auditors to perform financial analysis and make specific inquiries of management and others about the items in the interim condensed financial statements and the effectiveness of the accounting processes. We will request from management written confirmation in a Letter of Representation (LOR).

In the LOR, the management represents that in case any errors are not rectified, this will not materially affect the financial position of the Company and will not have any material impact on the presentation and disclosures in the interim condensed financial statements.

After completion of our review, we will discuss the results with the management.

During our review, if we identify any issues (including any material impact over the completeness and quality of the presentation and disclosure in the reviewed interim condensed financial statements) we will discuss these issues with the management before issue of the quarterly report.

This limited review is significantly lesser than the regular year end audit which is required by the International Standards on Auditing “ISA”. Our examination does not include any assurance that we will be aware of any errors, irregularities, fraud or illegal activities or any other issues that will have any impact on our judgment over the quality of the interim condensed financial statements that could be identified during regular audit process.

It is the responsibility of the management to adhere to the Ministerial Regulations and to enable us to complete the limited quarterly reviews within the stipulated time and submit the Reports to the Ministry within the prescribed time limit.

Our Audit Emphasis

Based on our initial understanding of your accounting issues and challenges obtained from our discussion with the management, our experienced audit team will exercise special focus on the following areas during the early stages of the audit, in order to identify and resolve the potential accounting and technical matters in a timely manner.

Areas of Focus	Primary Audit Procedures
Management override of controls	Management of any entity is by definition in a unique position to perpetrate fraud because of management's ability to manipulate accounting records and prepare fraudulent financial statements by overriding controls that otherwise appear to be operating effectively. Due to the unpredictable way in which such override could occur, it is a risk of material misstatement due to fraud and thus a significant risk. Our Team will perform Journal Entry Tests (JET) throughout and at the end of the reporting period.
Revenue Recognition (Gross Written Premium)	There is a presumed risk on any audit engagement of material misstatement due to fraudulent financial reporting relating to revenue recognition. This risk often results from an overstatement of revenue, for example, premature revenue recognition or recording fictitious revenues. It may result also from an understatement of revenues, for example, through improperly shifting revenues to a later period. Cut-off tests, recalculations and data input testing will be our key procedures for the verification of revenue cycle.
Accounting policies, judgments and estimates	There are frequent changes in accounting standards and the Company should be well equipped to handle the adoption of any standard that may have a material impact on the financial statements. We will ensure that the Company is aware of new accounting standards and implications of adoption, if appropriate, as soon as practical. We will discuss the appropriateness of accounting policies, and review significant transactions and contractual arrangements against the requirements of IFRS and SAMA regulations.

Our Audit Emphasis – Cont'd

Areas of Focus	Primary Audit Procedures
Provision for doubtful debts and impairment	Provision for doubtful debts and impairment involves significant management judgments and therefore is considered a key risk area. We will evaluate the adequacy of the provision as calculated under SAMA regulations and compare it against the provision calculated under IFRS. We will evaluate and audit management's procedures for impairment and its adequacy. This may require control testing along with other procedures
Related parties' transactions	There is a risk of material misstatement associated with related party transactions as the terms may be outside the Company's normal course of business. Our audit procedures will be: Understanding the arms length basis for related party transactions. Make sure that affiliates balances are properly reconciled, classified, described, and disclosed in the financial statements. Confirming the closing balances within the affiliated companies.
Technical Reserves	Actuaries use significant judgements, assumptions and methodology in deriving best estimate of technical reserves. This not only involves complex actuarial calculations but also involves strict adherence to SAMA regulations and guidelines. We will involve our internal PKF actuarial services department, comprising of experienced and qualified actuaries to assess the adequacy of reserving, appropriateness of actuarial assumptions, correctness of input data and consistent and correct application of actuarial methodologies used in reserving.

Fraud considerations

In accordance with Applicable Standards on Auditing, the Auditor has a responsibility to consider the risk of fraud in the audit. Hence, we will undertake specific procedures and report findings to the Company management in respect of financial reporting fraud. The following highlights the phases of our work on fraud:

However, it goes much further than providing a technically correct audit that complies with all requirements. It will deliver insights: sharing our knowledge and experience in areas that really matter to the Company.

Our audit will provide the quality, efficiency and insight to help you implement a standardised approach, streamline processes and procedures and grow your business safely.

In order to deliver the benefits outlined on the prior page we build them into the rhythm of the audit and we factor these elements in by applying a methodology tailored to the Company's needs by means of a six-step audit process.

1. Knowledge of the business of the Company

Our audit commences from a detailed understanding of your business in which you operate. This forms an important part of our risk assessment.

The quality of our audit is based on a sound understanding of your business. This enables us to consider the risks affecting your business when performing our audit risk assessment and helps us to define an audit scope and efficient approach that responds to those risks.

An example of this is summarised below. We consider how key macro factors influencing the Company may impact the business, and how this may be expected to impact the audit. We also consider and plan for those areas where we are able to deliver added value through the audit, for example sharing experience or insights such as industry benchmarking.

Macro factors	How this may impact the business	Considerations as part of Allianz Saudi Fransi Cooperative Insurance Company
Macro economy 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Impact on business profitability, customer confidence • Impact on the business model • Impact on fiscal planning • Impact on capital and liquidity levels 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Valuation of financial instruments • Analysis of regulatory and legal matters • Evaluating technical reserves

2. Risk Assessment

International Standards on Auditing require us to identify those areas that manifest themselves in a material risk of error or fraud in the financial statements. We consider the nature, magnitude and likelihood in identifying these risks.

The second element of our audit approach is around the identification and selection of the audit risks that could have a material impact on the Company's financial statements.

Our risk assessment addresses the significance of the audit risk type, size and probability of occurrence, leading to a classification of Significant and Normal audit risks.

Our risk assessment forms the basis for planning and guiding all subsequent audit work. It determines where our audit effort should be focused and whether we can place reliance on the effective operation of your controls.

We have already performed a preliminary analysis of the Company's significant audit risks below using our knowledge of the industry, review of prior year audited financial statements and preliminary discussions with the Finance team.

3. Efficient Scoping

An audit designed for the Company, based on its controls and its information systems. Our audit is designed to be tailored to you to address the features of your unique control environment.

At Allianz Saudi Fransi Cooperative Insurance Company, we will apply an audit methodology tailored to the Company and based on our understanding of the processes, risks and the control environment, which are key in our audit approach, resulting in an efficient value-added audit.

As part of this assessment, special attention will be paid to the Control Framework in place in the Company so as to ensure an adequate, efficient and coherent approach to the review of the internal control environment in all locations.

Our risk assessment considers risks that could give rise to a material misstatement. Our first step is to consider how those risks affect each balance within the financial statements of the Company.

Based on the scope we have determined, we understand business processes and controls that are key to financial reporting. We categorise controls identified as either automated, IT-dependent or manual controls.

Example insights we will deliver through the audit

- Report to management on significant weaknesses in your controls
- We will share our view of potential areas for further process standardisation and automation

We would conduct a walkthrough of the end to end process to assess the control environment and determine which of management’s controls are key controls we would look to rely upon to mitigate the risks identified and assertions covered.

After consideration of our controls testing approach and the outcome of our testing, we are able to determine the level of substantive testing we need to perform.

Benefits to Allianz Saudi Fransi Cooperative Insurance Company

- Our effective scoping and constant communication will lead to a ‘no surprises’ audit.

4. Robust testing

Internationally, we are seeing increasing demand for more robust audits. This is coming from regulators, key stakeholders and the public more generally. We know you want, and rightly expect, a high quality audit with robust and constructive challenge.

A robust testing strategy, execution and evaluation of testing results is critical to audit quality. We will use our latest smart technology, relevant industry knowledge and our experienced team to deliver a tailored approach to you.

Bringing better technology is a key part of evolving the quality, rigour and timeliness of our work. In the next section, we provide detail on the existing technologies we use to support the audit including Connect, Confirmations, Halo, and GL.ai. We are continuing to invest with more technologies and solutions being developed.

We seek the best way to efficiently obtain audit evidence. A combination of the following testing techniques are used:

- Tests of controls employed by the Company.
- Detailed testing of transactions using manual or data management techniques.
- Analytical reviews in which the transactions or balances have foreseeable relationships or may be verified globally.

We have invested in a series of detailed insurance audit approach guides covering all key areas along with a detailed library of insurance specific control and substantive audit procedures, are used by all of our teams to ensure greater consistency and quality of execution. These guides have assisted our teams to ensure all aspects of the audit are properly considered thereby assisting to improve the quality of our audit and the insights we provide on the control environment.

Given the nature of the Company, we anticipate our audit will primarily be controls based. This means that we will walk through and understand your control environment, test the key controls, and supplement our controls testing with substantive tests of detail.

Our audit will also focus on the critical accounting estimates and judgments, such as Insurance contracts liabilities. We will engage auditor experts where required to independently assess the validity of significant judgements and their adherence to the International Financial Reporting Standards and market best practice.

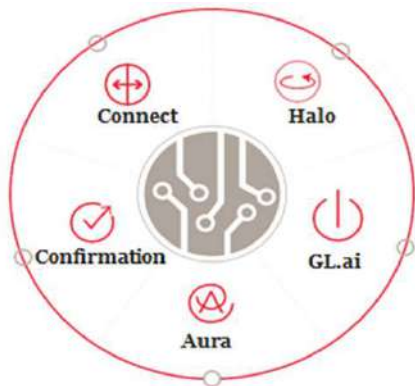

Where we are testing for the risk of material misstatement relating to Significant Risks, under International Standards on Auditing as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, we are required to perform substantive tests of detail over the assertions where the risk of material misstatement manifest themselves.

The combination of our technologies, approach, mindset and people leads to a robust and thoughtful audit for you.

Independence and quality explained

“Quality is not an act. It is a habit.”

- Aristotle

A tireless pursuit of quality

Quality is a top priority at PwC and it is a key part of our strategy. As a leading professional services firm, our ability to deliver high quality audits is the foundation of our reputation. Audits that enhance shareholder trust in corporate reporting are an essential feature of our capital markets.

In addition, our overall quality management is based on four essential aspects:

Compliance with our values

PwC's objective is to ensure that our professionals operate in accordance with the guidelines established in our Code of Conduct in all areas (PwC Code of Conduct). In addition to our code, this system rests on the implementation of training programs, our Whistle-blower Channel and our Ethics Office.

Acceptance of clients and work

When any potential service arises, we always evaluate whether we are adequately prepared or if there are actual or potential conflicts of interest or other types of risk that must be taken into account before accepting a client or work.

Work standards

PwC has a Global Methodology group that establishes the minimum work execution standards and the common tasks to be performed throughout the network. This group also develops best practices, suggested work programs and templates. Each local firm has its own methodology team to assist our partners and professionals to work at the expected quality level.

Quality controls

Quality control is a process of which the Firm feels particularly proud and this comprises both internal and external monitoring. Quality monitoring is an integral part of the firm's continuous improvement programme. Instances of failure to meet defined performance standards are treated seriously and appropriate and timely action is always taken to improve performance.

Chinese Walls

We recognise that the protection of our client's data is an utmost priority. At PwC, we take our responsibility extremely seriously.

All partners and staff undertake regular training on the importance of data confidentiality, security and our legal and reputational risks. As part of the annual compliance training exercise, everyone completed 'Safe & Secure', a training module designed to remind everyone of our responsibilities in this area.

In the Financial Services practice, we audit a number of your competitors which we believe is a key strength and will benefit Allianz Saudi Fransi Cooperative Insurance Company, however, we know we must maintain strict confidentiality between teams. Other than continuous reinforcement in training sessions, the following physical arrangements are in force and this will apply to Allianz Saudi Fransi Cooperative Insurance Company as for other audits.

Quality control

Quality control is a process of which the Firm feels particularly proud and this comprises both internal and external monitoring. Quality monitoring is an integral part of the firm's continuous improvement programme. Instances of failure to meet defined performance standards are treated seriously and appropriate and timely action is always taken to improve performance.

- Access to audit information on our Aura, Halo and ClientConnect files is restricted to the engagement team only and automated controls exist to ensure this access is appropriate.
- The key audit partners and directors ensure that adequate time is spent on each audit. We operate a strict clean desk policy in the practice.
- Our financial services clients tell us that benchmarking across the sector provides them with powerful insight and makes us distinctive - however we only do so under strictly controlled situations, with all data anonymised.

Internally the PwC Network has an established review programme for all Assurance practices. This includes a Quality Management Review testing the quality of our control systems, and an Engagement Compliance Review programme to assess whether individual engagements are performed in accordance with the relevant standards.

In recent years, we have achieved independence successfully many times. Most recently, we achieved global independence on HSBC in all countries, including in the Middle East where they were our principal lender. We commenced as auditor without incident – proof that our standards work.

Monitoring and maintaining independence

We view independence as freedom from situations and influence, facts and circumstances where a reasonably informed third party would conclude that our independence is impaired, either in fact or appearance.

We ensure independence and freedom from conflicts of interest in four broad areas:

- Financial interests in clients.
- Employment relationships.
- Business and personal relationships.
- Providing non-audit services.

We have developed a detailed plan to manage these four areas of focus, and with your active assistance, we are confident of achieving independence.

Following our appointment as auditor, we will continue to rigorously monitor independence. Set out below is a summary of the tools and processes that will ensure our independence from Allianz Saudi Fransi Cooperative Insurance Company, both in accordance with our respective high standards, as well as those mandated by ethical, professional and regulatory requirements.

Our training, policies, processes and monitoring procedures

People

Check Point– All partners and managerial staff are required to obtain pre-clearance of securities to ensure permissibility before any purchase, and record all trades and dispositions. Automatic disposal notices are sent when investments become restricted and are monitored by the Independence Office in PwC.

Independence confirmations – Partners and staff working on an audit are unable to charge time before completing an independence declaration confirming that they are independent of their client. This confirmation is required bi-annually.

Given our thorough understanding of independence requirements and our understanding of your business, we are confident that we are independent

Rotation Tracking System (RTS) – Required rotations are managed automatically through RTS which is a web-based database designed to monitor the Firm’s policy on rotation.

External Directorship database – all partners and staff are required to seek pre-approval before accepting any director or officer positions.

Global Independence Policy (GIP) – all partners and staff are required to comply with PwC’s rigorous GIP. This policy sets independence requirements which are either the same or are more onerous than the independence requirements of Saudi Arabia and standards applicable to listed companies in Saudi Arabia.

Annual Compliance Confirmation (ACC) – ACC provides a comprehensive picture of the independence compliance of all partners and staff.

Personal Independence Compliance Testing (PICT) – PICT is mandated to test personal independence compliance. Compliance failures have performance assessment and compensation consequences.

Training, alerts, leadership updates and guidance – independence training for all partners and staff is mandatory and guidance updates are released at different points in the year.

Non-audit services

Global Independence Checks – This identifies and analyses, according to relevant rules, any existing non-audit services and firm relationships within each territory in which a client operates.

Central Entity Services (CES) – CES includes the client hierarchy and relevant restrictions. Audit teams update client hierarchies in CES to ensure ongoing completeness.

Authorisation for Services (AFS) – AFS is used to obtain approval for non-audit services according to the relevant rules indicated in CES. As the Company’s auditor, the engagement leader will receive a notification of every proposed service to be provided to the Company globally, and will be required to pre-approve each service prior to being engaged to ensure compliance with your policy.

Relationship and conflict checks – These checks are performed prior to the acceptance of any new engagement and are designed to identify business and personal relationships, and highlight all ongoing work for clients.

Firm

Joint Business Relationships (JBRs) – The JBR database facilitates the review, approval and management of JBRs, as well as the monitoring of their ongoing permissibility. Under our Global Independence Policy, JBRs would not be permissible with the Company.

Firm financial and other relationships – A review of the permissibility of financial arrangements is conducted by the Independence Office in advance of the Firm entering into such arrangements.

For our audit clients in Saudi Arabia, we only perform non-audit services when:

They are permitted by SOCPA. This is generally limited to assurance services which must be provided by the current auditor and tax services.

They are permitted by our client’s policies and the Audit Committee agrees, before any services are provided, that these other services will not impair our independence, real or perceived.

We actively monitor at an individual client level, the quantum of non-audit fees earned from audit clients to ensure that they are contained to relatively low levels.

Our audit partners are evaluated on the robustness of the audits and the value and insights they deliver. They are not measured or compensated for selling non-assurance services to audit clients.

Audit fees

Importance of relationships

We recognise the value of investing in a long term relationship. We are determined to provide further value in excess of the core audit obligations and an enhanced service at a competitive price. The experience of our people, and our market leading technology, means PwC delivers a more efficient and higher quality service. This translates into a fair fee and greater value to your business. An open and transparent fee discussion is important in a trusted, long term relationship and we believe that our proposed fees reflect our enthusiasm to be appointed as auditors of the Company and work with you.

Value for money

We believe that our proposed fees represent excellent value for money given the size of the Company and our knowledge of the work required to carry out a quality audit. The non-recurring cost of audit transition and the audit of opening balances has not been included in our fee quote. We will absorb these costs as part of our investment in our long term relationship with you.

We look forward to being associated with the Company, and to establishing a long term relationship. If any element of our fee proposal does not meet your expectations we would be pleased to discuss this with you.

We understand the importance that you place on a fair fee for a high quality audit alongside the added value and insight that we know we can bring to you. We believe that the fee should be both fair and competitive, while enabling our people to spend the time that is required to deliver the service that you expect.

The breakup of our proposed fee is as follows. The fees below do not include out-of-pocket expenses, which will be in addition to the amounts below and will be billed separately. Such amount will be agreed with you up front.

The proposed fee is based on the fact that the Company have done proper implementation of the new accounting standards. Any regulatory reporting requirements issued after the date of this proposal will be discussed and agreed upon separately.

5. رأي لجنة المراجعة في مدى كفاءة نظام الرقابة الداخلي:

تعتبر الإدارة التنفيذية بالشركة مسؤولة عن إيجاد نظام رقابة داخلية ملائم وفعال والذي يتضمن سياسات وإجراءات عمل تم إعدادها تحت إشراف مجلس الإدارة لتحقيق أهداف الشركة الإستراتيجية.

وتقوم الشركة بتقييم ومراقبة نظام الرقابة الداخلية من خلال إدارات الشركة الرقابية (المراجعة الداخلية، الإلتزام وإدارة المخاطر) كما تقوم جميع الإدارات ببذل جهود لتحسين بيئة الرقابة من خلال العديد من المبادرات كإستحداث وحدة لمركزة جميع سياسات وإجراءات العمل لتكون مسؤولة عن وضع وتحديث أي سياسة أو إجراء.

وعليه نحرص على التطور المستمر للوظائف الرقابية لرفع الأداء الى أقصى حد ممكن من الكفاءة والفاعلية في ضوء المخاطر التي قد تواجهها الشركة ، ويبدأ بالإطار العام للحوكمة المؤسسية في الشركة والإلتزام والذي يحدد مسؤوليات وأدوار مجلس الإدارة واللجان المنبثقة وكذلك اللجان الإدارية الأخرى، واستنادا على التقارير الدورية التي عرضت على اللجنة في عام 2022 م من قبل كل من ادره المراجعة الداخلية، ادارة الإلتزام والمراجعين الخارجيين وتقارير الادارة التنفيذية، وبناءا على ذلك، ترى لجنة المراجعة سلامة كفاءة وفعالية نظام الرقابة الداخلي في الشركة.

مع العلم بأن أي نظام رقابة داخلية بغض النظر عن مدى كفاءة تصميمه وفاعلية تطبيقه لا يمكن أن يوفر تأكيدا مطلقا.
