AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITIES FOR THE AUDIT OF THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (CONTINUED)

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements. As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the group's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used, the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exist related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosure in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the group to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit. We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Significant judgments made by the management (Note 4) upon the adopting the Group’s accounting policies correspond to the disclosed policies in last year’s financial statements.

2/5 Going Concern

The Group's management has assessed the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, and is convinced that the Group has sufficient resources to continue its business in the near future. In addition, the management does not have any material doubts about the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. Therefore, the financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Mentioned below an overview of the significant accounting policies applied in the preparation of these consolidated financial statements of the parent company (a Saudi joint stock company) and its subsidiaries (the "Group"). These policies are consistently applied to all periods presented, except for what is mentioned in the bases for preparation Note 2, unless otherwise stated.

3/1 Basis of consolidation of financial statements

The financial statements of the group include the financial statements of the company and its subsidiaries as shown in Note No. (1). Control is achieved when the Group is exposed, or has rights, to returns from its involvement with the investee and has the ability to affect those returns through its power over the investee. The Group considers controlling an investee when the Group has:

1. Control of the investee company (existing rights that give it the current ability to direct the activities of the investee).
2. Exposure to risks and rights to various returns from its overlap with the investee company.
3. The ability to use its power over the investee company to affect its returns.

The Group reassesses whether or not it controls an investee if facts and circumstances indicate that there are changes to one of the elements of control described above. The process of consolidation of a subsidiary begins when the group obtains control of the subsidiary and ceases when the group loses control of the subsidiary. Assets, liabilities, income and expenses of a subsidiary acquired or disposed of during the period are included in the financial statements from the date the Group acquires control of the subsidiary until the date it ceases.

Profits and losses and all components of other comprehensive income are attributable to the equity holders of the Group's parent company and to the holders of the non-controlling interests, even if this results in a deficit balance in favor of the non-controlling interests. When necessary, adjustments are made to the financial statements of subsidiaries to bring their accounting policies into line with the Group's accounting policies. All intra-group balances and financial transactions resulting from transactions between the group and its subsidiary and those between subsidiaries are eliminated in preparing the financial statements. Also, any unrealized gains or losses resulting from internal transactions in the group are eliminated on consolidation of the financial statements.

A change in the ownership interest in a subsidiary, without a loss of control, is accounted for as an equity transaction, when the Group loses control of a subsidiary that:

- De-recognition of the assets (including goodwill) and liabilities of the subsidiary.
- De-recognition of the carrying amount of any non-controlling interest.
- Establishing the fair value of the amount received.
- Recognize the fair value of any investment held.
- Proving the surplus or deficit in profit or loss.

The Parent Company's share of the aforementioned components of other comprehensive income is reclassified to profit or loss or retained earnings, as appropriate, as would be required if the Group had directly disposed of the related assets and liabilities.

Eliminations

Intra-group balances and transactions, as well as any unrealized gains or losses arising from intra-group transactions, are eliminated in full when preparing these financial statements. Unrealized gains arising from transactions with equity investees are eliminated to the extent of the Group's interest in the investee. Unrealized losses are eliminated in the same way as unrealized gains, but to the extent that there is no evidence of impairment.

Non-controlling interests

The non-controlling interest in the net assets of a subsidiary is recognized separately from the Group's interest in net assets. Non-controlling interests consist of the amounts of those interests recognized on the date of the primary business combination as well as their shares of changes in equity in the Group that occur after the acquisition date.

3/2 New and amended IFRS standards issued and effective in the year 2024

The following amendments to standards relevant to the Company are effective for the annual periods beginning on or after 1 January 2024 (unless otherwise stated). The Company adopted these standards and / or amendments, however, there is no significant impact of these on the financial statements:

| Amendments to standards | Description                                      | Effective from accounting period beginning on or after | Summary of amendment   |
|--------------------------------|---|---|---|
| IAS 1                          | Classification of liabilities as current or non-current | 1 January 2024  | The amendment has clarified what is meant by a right to defer settlement, that a right to defer must exist at the end of the reporting period, that classification is unaffected by the likelihood that an entity will exercise its deferral right, and that only if an embedded derivative in a convertible liability is itself an equity instrument the terms of liability would not impact its classification. |
| IFRS 16                        | Leases on sale and leaseback                            | 1 January 2024  | These amendments include requirements for sale and leaseback transactions in IFRS 16 to explain how an entity accounts for a sale and leaseback after the date of the transaction. Sale and leaseback transactions where some or all the lease payments are variable lease payments that do not depend on an index or rate are most likely to be impacted.  |
| IAS 7 and IFRS 7               | Supplier finance arrangements                           | 1 January 2024  | These amendments require to add disclosure requirements to enhance transparency of supplier finance arrangements, and 'signposts' within existing disclosure requirements, that ask entities to provide qualitative and quantitative information about supplier finance arrangements.   |

3/2 New and amended IFRS Standards issued but not yet effective

The Company has not applied the following new and revised IFRS Standards and amendments to IFRS that have been issued but are not yet effective:

| Amendments to standards | Description      | Effective from accounting period beginning on or after | Summary of amendment   |
|--------------------------------|-------------------------|---|---|
| IAS 21                         | Lack of Exchangeability | 1 January 2025  | The amendments contain guidance to specify when a currency is exchangeable and how to determine the exchange rate when it is not. |

Management anticipates that these new standards, interpretations and amendments will be adopted in the Company's financial statements as and when they are applicable and adoption of these interpretations and amendments may have no material impact on the financial statements of the Company in the period of initial application.

3/3 Foreign Currencies translation

Translation of foreign currency transactions

Transactions in currencies other than the Group's functional currency (foreign currencies) are recorded at the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the end of each reporting period at the exchange rates prevailing at that date. Non-monetary items carried at fair value that are denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rates prevailing at the date when the fair value was determined.

Exchange differences on monetary items are recognized in the consolidated statement of profit or loss in the year in which they arise except for foreign exchange differences on monetary items due from or due to a foreign operation that are not likely or due to be settled (and therefore form part of the net Investment in the foreign operation) which is initially recognized in other comprehensive income and is reclassified from shareholders' equity to the consolidated statement of profit or loss upon settlement of the monetary items.

On disposal of a foreign operation (disposal of the Group's entire interest in a foreign operation, disposal involving loss of control of a subsidiary that includes a foreign operation), all cumulative exchange differences in equity for that operation attributable to the Group's shareholders are reclassified to the statement of profit or loss. In addition, in connection with the partial disposal of a subsidiary that includes a foreign operation, which does not result in the Group losing control of the subsidiary, the proportionate share of the accumulated exchange differences is redistributed to the non-controlling interests and is not recognized in the statement of profit or loss. For all other partial disposals (such as partial disposals of associates or joint arrangements that do not result in the Group losing significant influence or joint control), the proportionate share of the cumulative exchange rate differences is reclassified to the statement of profit or loss.

Foreign exchange translation differences for subsidiaries

Each group company has transactions denominated in currencies other than the presentation currency at the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the end of each reporting period at the exchange rates prevailing at that date. Exchange differences on monetary items are recognized in the consolidated statement of profit and loss in the period in which they arise except when other comprehensive profit is deferred to cover qualifying cash flows.

Assets and liabilities included in the consolidated financial statements of foreign companies that are issued in their functional currency are presented in Saudi Riyals, which is the functional and presentation currency of the Group using the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the year. Revenues and expenses in Saudi Riyals are translated according to the weighted average exchange rates during the year or according to the exchange rates prevailing at the date of the transaction for significant transactions.

Changes resulting from retranslation of the opening balance of net assets from foreign operations and changes resulting from translating the net results for the year from foreign operations are recognized in the statement of other comprehensive income.

When there is a change in control of an external operation, the change in exchange rates is recognized in equity and charged to the consolidated statement of profit or loss as part of the gain or loss on disposals.

3/4 Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment except lands owned by the Group and properties work in progress are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment in value, if any. lands owned by the Group and properties work in progress is valued at cost.

Depreciation is charged to income applying the straight-line method at the rates specified in the property, plant and equipment note.

The estimated useful lives of assets will be depreciated as follow:

| Item                        | Years  |
|------------------------------------|---------------|
| Buildings on leased or owned lands | 20 – 50 years |
| Plant and equipment                | 7 – 30 years  |
| Vehicles and transportation        | 5 -10 years   |
| Furniture and office equipment     | 5 - 20 years  |
| Computers and electric equipment   | 5 -10 years   |
| Tools and instruments              | 5 years       |

In respect of additions and disposals during the year, depreciation is charged from the months of acquisition or capitalization and up to the months preceding of disposal respectively. The productive life category of the asset is also verified and its compatibility with the productive life categories used.

Annual review of residual values and useful lives

The residual value of the asset is the current estimated amount that the Group can obtain from excluding the asset after deducting the estimated costs of exclusion if the asset has already reached the expected life and condition at the end of its useful life.

The residual values and useful lives of the assets are reviewed and adjusted, if necessary, at the end of each financial period. If the forecasts differ from previous estimates, the change (s) are calculated as a change in accounting estimates.

Asset segmentation

Property, plant and equipment often consists of different parts with different useful lives or consumption patterns. These parts are replaced (independently) during the useful life of the asset. Accordingly:

- Each part of the item of property, plant and equipment is depreciated, the cost of which is relatively important relative to the total cost of the item independently (unless one of the important parts has the same useful life and the method of consuming another part of the same item of property, plant and equipment, in which case, the two parts can be combined together for the purpose of consumption).

Under the segmentation approach. The Group does not recognize the daily maintenance costs of the item in the carrying amount of the item of property, plant and equipment. These costs are recognized in the statement of profit or loss when incurred. The components of the different assets are determined and depreciated separately only for the significant parts of property, plant and equipment with useful lives or different depreciation patterns. However, the principles regarding parts replacement (which represent the subsequent cost of a replacement part) generally apply to all specific parts, regardless of whether they are significant or not important.

projects under construction

The cost of the projects under construction is calculated on the basis of the actual cost and is shown as projects under implementation until the project is received from the contractor, then it is transferred to the various items within property, machinery and equipment, and then depreciation is started.

Capitalization of costs within property, plant and equipment

The cost of item of property, plant and equipment consists of the following:

- Purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after discounting commercial discounts and discounts.
- Any costs directly related to the origin of the site and the necessary condition for its operation in the manner deemed appropriate for the administration.
- Initial estimation of the costs of dismantling and moving the item, returning the site on which it is located to its natural state, and the obligation incurred either as a result of purchasing this item or as a result of using it during a specific period for purposes other than producing inventories during that year.

Subsequent costs are included in the carrying amount of the asset or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Group and the cost of the item can be measured reliably, the recognition of the carrying amount of one of the parts recognized as a separate asset ceases at replace it.

Borrowing costs related to the qualifying assets are capitalized as part of the cost of the qualifying assets until commencement of commercial production.

All other repair and maintenance expenses are charged to the statement of profit or loss during the period of the financial statements in which they are incurred. Regular maintenance and repairs that do not increase the estimated useful life of the asset or production outputs are charged to the statement of profit or loss when incurred.

Profits and losses resulting from the disposal of property, plant and equipment are determined by comparing the proceeds with the net book value and are included in other income.

3/5 Intangible assets

Intangible assets represent computer software licenses where amounts paid to acquire computer software licenses are capitalized and stated at cost less any impairment, if any. They are amortized on a straight-line basis over the useful life of the licenses from 5 to 15.5 years.

3/6 Impairment of non-financial assets

An impairment loss is recognized wherever the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount that is higher of an asset's fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. Impairment losses are recognized in statement of profit or loss.

The fair value is determined according to IFRS 13 on fair value and the cost of disposal is the cost that can only be added. The book value of the assets is evaluated by the current discounted value of future cash flows, considering the risks associated with money in the country in which it is dealt.

On the date of each financial position, the values of the non-financial assets other than the financial assets and those that were subject to impairment are reviewed for the possibility of reversing the decrease in the value. When the impairment loss is subsequently refunded, the carrying amount of the asset or cash-generating unit is increased in accordance with adjusted estimates of its recoverable amount, provided that the book value does not exceed if no loss has been recorded for the asset or cash-generating unit in previous years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized as direct income in the statement of profit or loss. Impairment of property, plant and equipment primarily idle production capacity of the plant by closing or selling ineffective products from auxiliary products. When the impairment loss is subsequently reversed, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to the adjusted recoverable amount, within the book value limits that would have been determined if the impairment loss was not recognized for the asset in prior years. A reversal of an impairment loss is recognized immediately in the statement of profit or loss, unless the underlying asset is included in the revalued value, in which case the reversal of the impairment loss is treated as an increase in the revaluation.

3/7 Inventories

Inventories, excluding damaged, are valued at cost or net realizable value (whichever is lower). The decrease in the net realizable value is recognized as an expense during the period in which the decrease arose. Any reversal of the impairment is charged to the consolidated statement of profit or loss during the period in which the reversal arose. The net realizable value is determined by the estimated selling price of the products in the ordinary course of the Group's business, less any expected additional costs required to complete the product and expenses required to market, distribute and sell the product.

Inventories cost determined as follow:

| Category                | Cost  |
|--------------------------------|--|
| Raw Materials                  | Weighted average   |
| Work in progress               | The cost of the production unit for the period based on the percentage of completion in the relevant stage.  |
| Finished Goods                 | The unit cost of production is determined by dividing the total production cost for the period by the salable output for the period. The unit cost includes the following:The cost of the raw materials used- Labor cost, depreciation of real estate and equipment, and amortization of the right to use assets (used in production).Fixed and variable overhead costs. |
| Damage and associated products | Net realizable value (estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business using the same percentage of completion at the relevant stage and estimated recoverable contents less any selling expenses)   |
| Goods in transit               | The cost of the purchase or the value of the supplier's invoice, in addition to some expenses necessary to complete the purchase process   |

Net realizable value and inventories provision valuation

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the normal course of business of the Group less the estimated costs of completion and selling and distribution expenses. The valuation of the net realizable value of inventories reduction is usually done on an individual basis. This is when the product is from the same product line (which has a similar purpose and end use) and is marketed in the same geographical area.

Reducing inventories below cost to their net realizable value is in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards that the value of assets should not be increased more than the amounts expected to be realized from their sale.

A provision is made for slow moving, obsolete and obsolete inventories. Damaged inventories are identified and reduced when you perform the inventories count. The provision for slow moving and obsolete inventories is assessed by category of inventories as part of the financial report. The stage is evaluated based on comparison of the level of completeness of inventories held with expected and potential future sales.

3/8 Financial instruments

Non-derivative financial instruments

The Group has applied the following classification and measurement requirements for financial instruments.

Recognition of financial instruments

Financial asset and liability is recognized when the Group represents a part of contractual obligations of the instrument, which is usually at the date of trade. The Group derecognizes financial asset when contractual cash flows of these assets are expired, or when the Group transfers financial asset's contractual cash flows in a transaction in which all risks and rewards of ownership of assets are substantially transferred. Any interests resulted from transferred financial assets that the Group has established or held as separate assets or liabilities are recognized.

De-recognition

On de-recognition of a financial asset, the difference between the carrying amount of the asset and the sum of (i) the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) and (ii) any cumulative gain or loss that had been recognized in OCI is recognized in the profit or loss. However, in respect of equity securities designated as at FVOCI, any cumulative gain / loss recognized in OCI is not recognized in the profit or loss on de-recognition.

A financial liability is derecognized from the consolidated statement of financial position when the Group has discharged its obligation or the contract is cancelled or expires.

The Group de-recognizes financial assets primarily when:

- contractual rights of cash flows from financial assets expire; or
- the Group transfers the rights to collect contractual cash flows in the transaction through which all risks and rewards of ownership of the financial assets are transferred or through which the Group does not make a material transfer; or
- retain all risks and rewards of ownership and do not maintain control over financial assets.

The Group derecognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled or expire. The Group also derecognizes financial liabilities when its terms are modified and when the cash flows of the adjusted liabilities are significantly different. In such case, new financial liabilities are recognized at fair value based on the modified terms.

3/8 Financial instruments (Continued)

On de-recognition of a financial liability, the difference between the carrying amount extinguished and the consideration paid (including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed) is recognized in profit or loss.

Classification of financial instruments

The Group classified its financial assets into the following measurement categories:

- Assets to be measured at amortized cost; or
- Fair value through profit or loss (FVTPL); or
- FVOCI - investment in equity instruments

Classification of financial instruments

The classification depends on the Group's business model for managing financial assets and the contractual terms of the financial assets cash flows. Financial assets are not reclassified subsequently to initial recognition unless the Group changed business model for managing the financial assets. In such case, all affected financial assets are reclassified at the first day of the first financial period subsequent to business model change.

Financial assets are measured at amortized cost if it meets both of the following conditions and are not recognized as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss:

- Kept in business model which aims to keep assets to gain contractual cash flows; and
- The contractual conditions lead to enter into certain dates for cash flows which represent the principal and the interests of the basic pending amount.

Upon the initial measurement of equity instruments, which the Group does not hold for trading purpose, the Group can elect to present any subsequent changes in fair value for these investments in the statement of other comprehensive income. This election is made on an investment by investment basis.

Any other financial assets not classified or measured at amortized cost or fair value through other comprehensive income as above mentioned, are measured at fair value through profit or loss, including derivative financial assets.

Financial assets- subsequent measurement - profits or losses:

|------------------------------------|--|
| Financial assets at amortized cost | These assets are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The amortized cost is reduced by impairment losses (see below). Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Any gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss.  |
| FVOCI (Equity instruments)         | These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognized as revenues in the statement of profit or loss, unless these dividends represent recoverable amounts for part of the investment cost. Any other profits or losses are recognized in the statement of other comprehensive income and shall not be reclassified to the statement of profit or loss. |
| Financial assets at FVTPL          | These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net profits or losses, including any benefits or dividends are recognized in the statement of profits or loss.   |

Reclassification

When an entity changes its business model for managing financial assets it shall reclassify all affected financial assets in accordance with the above-mentioned classification requirements.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the consolidated statement of financial position if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognized amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

Share capital

Instruments issued by the Group are classified as equity (shareholders' equity) only to the extent that the definition of the asset or liability does not apply. The Group's ordinary shares are classified as equity instruments (Shareholders' equity).

Impairment

Impairment of financial assets

IFRS 9 requires an entity to follow an expected credit loss model for the impairment of financial assets.

Expected credit loss should be measured for financial assets measured at amortized cost or fair value through other comprehensive income, except for equity instruments investments.

Under IFRS 9, loss allowances are measured on either of the following bases:

- 12-month ECL. These are ECLs that result from possible default events within the 12 months after the reporting date;
- Lifetime expected credit loss These are ECLs that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument.

Lifetime ECL measurement applies if the credit risk of a credit asset at the reporting date has increased significantly since initial recognition and 12-month ECL measurement applies if it has not. The Group can assume that credit risks on a financial instrument didn't significantly increase since the initial recognition; if the financial instrument is previously determined as low credit risk instrument at the date of report. However, lifetime expected credit loss measurement is always applied on trade receivables and assets of the contracts without the presence of a significant finance item, in which the Group can adopt this policy to trade receivables with a non-significant finance item.

The Group elected to evaluate trade receivables impairment using 12-month expected credit loss model.

The carrying amount of financial asset is reduced through the use of an allowance account and the amount of the loss is recognized in the profit or loss. Interest income continues to be accrued on the reduced carrying amount using the rate of interest used to discount the future cash flows for the purpose of measuring the impairment loss. Loans, together with the associated allowance, are written off when there is no realistic prospect of future recovery and all collateral has been realized or has been transferred to the Group. If, in a subsequent year, the amount of the estimated impairment loss increases or decreases because of an event occurring after the impairment was recognized, previously recognized impairment loss is increased or reduced by adjusting the allowance account. If a write - off is later recovered, it is recognized in profit or loss in the period of recovery.

3/9 Impairment of non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Group's non-financial assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

Impairment exists when the carrying value of an asset or cash generating unit exceeds its recoverable amount, which is the higher of its fair value less costs of disposal and its value in use. The recoverable amount is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to the recoverable amount. In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are considered. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. The value in use is based on a discounted cash flow (DCF) model, whereby the future expected cash flows discounted using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and risks specific to the asset.

The losses arising from impairment are recognized in the consolidated statement of profit or loss. Impairment losses recognized in respect of CGUs are allocated first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the units, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets in the unit (group of units) on a pro rata basis.

An assessment is conducted at each reporting date to determine whether there is an evidence of impairment loss previously recorded or curtailed. If such indication exists, the Group estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized.

The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceeds the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the statement of consolidated profit or loss.

Non-financial assets other than goodwill, if any, that suffered an impairment are reviewed for possible reversal of the impairment at the end of each reporting period.

3/10 Loans and receivables

These assets are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. They arise principally through the provision of goods and services to customers (e.g. trade receivables), but also incorporate other types of contractual monetary asset. They are initially recognized at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to their acquisition or issue, and are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method, less provision for impairment.

For trade receivables, which are reported net; such provisions are recorded in a separate allowance account with the loss being recognized within the statement of profit or loss. On confirmation that the trade receivable will not be collectable, the gross carrying value of the asset is written off against the associated provision.

3/11 Advances and loans

After initial recognition, interest bearing borrowings and borrowings (including trade and other payables) are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method. Gains and losses are recognized in the income statement on disposal of liabilities as well as through the amortization process.

3/12 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less from the origination date, which are available to the Group without any restrictions. The statement of cash flows is prepared in accordance with the indirect method.

Restricted cash and cash equivalents that are not available for use (if any) by the Group are excluded from cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of preparing the statement of cash flows.

3/13 Trade payables and accruals

Trade payables and other payables are recognized at fair value and are subsequently carried at amortized cost using the effective interest method. The Group derecognizes a financial liability (or part of a financial liability) from its statement of financial position when, and only when, it is extinguished; that is, when the liability specified in the contract is discharged or canceled or expires.

3/14 Borrowing Cost

Capitalizing borrowing costs that are directly attributable to the purchase, construction or production of an asset, which takes time to be created or prepared over a long period of time so that the asset is ready for the purpose for which it was created, or for which it is sold as part of the cost of that asset. All other borrowing costs are recognized as an expense during the period in which they are incurred. Borrowing costs consist of financial interest and other costs that an entity incurs on loans obtained using the effective interest method.

3/15 Provisions

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event, the Group has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are measured at the present value of management's best estimate of the expenditures required to settle the present obligation at the end of the reporting period. The discount rate used to determine the present value is a pre-Zakat rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to liability. The increase in the provision due to passage of time is recognized as interest expenses.

3/16 Employee's benefits

General description of a defined benefit plan for employee's - end of service benefits

The Group is required by law to pay end of service benefits (defined benefit plan) in accordance with the Saudi Labor Law. The benefit of the end of service benefit equals half the salary of the last month of each of the first five years of service, including the fractions of the year, in addition to the salary of the last month in full for each year of the remaining / subsequent service, including fractions of the year. Entitlement factors are applied in cases of resignation. The end of service benefit plan is unfunded.

Evaluation methodology and key assumptions for the actuarial study

In compliance with the requirements of IAS 17 "Employee's Benefits", the end of service indemnity is determined by actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit actuarial cost method at the end of each fiscal year. The gain or loss arising from actuarial revaluation is recognized in the statement of comprehensive income for the period in which the revaluation occurred. They are not included in profit or loss. The cost of the current service of the defined benefit plan is recognized in the statement of profit or loss under employee's benefit expense to reflect the increase in the liability resulting from staff services for the current year and the cases of change, reduction or adjustment of benefits. Service costs for the previous years are directly also recognized in profit or loss. Interest is calculated using the effective discount rate at the beginning of the period.

Defined benefit costs are classified as follows:

- cost of service (including current service costs, past service cost, as well as gains and losses resulting from the scaling up and reimbursement of staff benefits);
- Interest cost; and
- Re-measurement.

Short-term employee's benefits

Liabilities are recognized and measured for benefits in respect of wages, salaries, annual leave and sick leave in the period in which they are rendered in the undiscounted amounts of the benefits expected to be paid for these services.

Retirement benefit costs

The Group contributes to the retirement benefits of employee's in accordance with the regulations of the General Organization for Social Insurance and is calculated as a percentage of the employee's remuneration. Payments are treated to government-managed pension benefit plans as payments to specific contribution plans as the Group's liabilities against these plans are equivalent to those that arise in a defined contribution retirement plan. Payments to retirement benefit plans are charged as an expense when due.

3/17 Revenue recognition

Revenues from contracts with customers

The Group recognizes revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model as set out in IFRS 15- revenue from contracts with customers.

Step 1 - Identify the contract(s) with a customer: A contract is defined as an agreement between two or more parties that creates enforceable rights and obligations and sets out the criteria for every contract that must be met.

Step 2 - Identify the performance obligations in the contract: A performance obligation is a promise in a contract with a customer to transfer a good or service to the customer.

Step 3 - Determine the transaction price: The transaction price is the amount of consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring promised goods or services to a customer, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

Step 4 - Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract: For a contract that has more than one performance obligation, the Group will allocate the transaction price to each performance obligation in an amount that depicts the amount of consideration to which the Group expects to be entitled in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation.

Step 5 - Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

If the consideration promised in a contract includes a variable amount, the Group shall estimate the amount of consideration to which the Group will be entitled in exchange for transferring the promised goods or services to a customer.

An amount of consideration can vary because of discounts, rebates, refunds, credits, price concessions, incentives, performance bonuses, penalties or other similar items. The promised consideration can also vary if the Group's entitlement to the consideration is contingent on the occurrence or non-occurrence of a future event.

Sales of goods

For contracts with customers which the only obligation is going to be selling steel products, revenues shall be recognized at the time in which control over asset is transferred to the customer at a specific point in time, which is usually at the delivery date. Revenue is measured net of returns, trade discounts, if any.

The Group recognizes revenue at the point in time at which the customer starts to obtain control of a promised asset and the entity satisfies the performance obligations. The Group considers the below mentioned indicators to assess the transfer of control of the promised asset:

- the Group has a present right to payment for the asset
- the customer has legal title to the asset
- the Group has transferred physical possession of the asset
- the customer has the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the asset
- The customer has accepted the asset

3/18 Zakat & Tax

The Company and its subsidiaries are subject to zakat in accordance with the regulations of the Saudi General Authority of Zakat and Tax ("GAZT"). Zakat is provided for the period ratably and charged separately in the statement of profit or loss and other comprehensive income. Additional zakat, if any, related to prior years' assessments arising from GAZT are accounted for in the period in which the final assessments are finalized.

Withholding tax expense

The Group withholds taxes on transactions with non-resident parties and on dividends paid to non-resident shareholders in accordance with GAZT regulations applicable in Kingdom of Saudi Arabia.

Value added tax

The value added tax was introduced in Saudi Arabia as of 1 January 2018 (14 Rabea Al Thani 1439H), which is tax on the supply of goods and services ultimately borne by the consumer, but collected at each stage of the production and distribution chain as a general principle. The value added tax (VAT) transaction in the Group's accounts should reflect its role as a tax collector and the VAT should not be included in income or expenditures, whether of capital nature or income. However, there will be circumstances in which the Group will incur VAT, and in such cases where VAT is non-refundable, it must be included in the cost of the product or service.

3/19 Expenses

Selling and Distribution expenses arising from the Group's efforts underlying the Distribution, selling and distribution functions. All other expenses, excluding cost of sales and financial charges, are classified as administrative expenses. Allocation of common expenses between cost of sales, selling and distribution and general and administrative expenses, where required, is made on a reasonable basis with regards to the nature and circumstances of the common expenses.

3/20 Current versus non-current classification

The Group presents assets and liabilities in the consolidated statement of financial position based on current/non-current classification. Asset is classified as current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to sold or consumed in normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- it is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

All other assets are classified as non-current assets.

A liability is classified as current when:

- Expected to be settled in the normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- there is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the date of financial position.

The Group classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

3/20 Dividends

Dividends are recorded as a liability in the period in which they are approved by the Board of Directors. Final dividends are recorded in the year in which they were approved by the General Assembly of shareholders.

3/21 Segmental information

An operating segment is a Group of assets and processes that jointly engage in the rendering of products or services subject to risks and rewards that differ from those of other business segments and which are measured in accordance with the reports used by the executive management.

A geographical segment is associated with the provision of products or services in a specific economic environment that is subject to risks and rewards that differ from those of segments of business in other economic environments.

3/23 Reserves

According to the company's By Law, reserves are formed in accordance with the decision of the ordinary general assembly, to the extent that achieves the company's interest or ensures the distribution of consist profits as much as possible to shareholders.

3/24 Transactions with related parties

The Group has transactions and relationships with related parties consisting of related companies, associate companies, directors, key management personnel and entities over which directors and senior management personnel exercise significant influence. In the normal course of business, the Group enters into transactions with various related parties. On the date of each financial position, those related parties and the nature and volume of transactions with them during the relevant period/year are disclosed in addition to the balances due from/to those related parties in the notes to the financial statements.

3/25 Right of use assets and lease liabilities

The Group assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease, at the inception of the contract. The Group recognizes the right-of-use asset and the corresponding lease obligation in respect of all lease agreements in which it is the lessee, except for short-term leases (defined as leases with a lease term of 12 months or less) and leases of low-value assets. The Group recognizes payments for these leases as an operating expense on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless there is another systematic basis that is more representative of the time pattern in which the economic benefits from the leased asset are exhausted.

A) Right of use assets

Right-of-use assets include the initial measurement of the corresponding lease liability, lease payments made on or before the commencement date and any initial direct costs. They are subsequently remeasured at cost less accumulated amortization and impairment losses.

A provision is recognized and measured under International Accounting Standard No. (37), when the Group incurs an obligation for the costs of dismantling and removing a leased asset, rehabilitating the site on which it is located, or restoring the underlying asset to the condition required under the terms and conditions of the lease contract. Costs are included in the related right-of-use asset, unless these costs are incurred to produce the inventory.

The right to use assets is amortized over the lease period or the useful life of the underlying asset, whichever is shorter. The right-of-use asset in question is amortized over the useful life of the underlying asset, if the lease transfers ownership of the underlying asset or the cost of the right-of-use asset reflects that the Group expects to exercise the purchase option. amortization begins on the lease start date.

Right to use assets are presented as a separate item in the statement of financial position. The Group applies International Accounting Standard No. (36) - Impairment of Assets to determine whether the right-to-use asset is impaired and to account for any impairment loss.

Variable rents that depend on an index or rate are included in measuring the lease obligation and the right to use the asset. The related payments are recognized as an expense in the period in which the event or condition giving rise to those payments is incurred and are included in "other expenses" in the statement of profit or loss.

b) Lease liabilities

The lease liability is initially measured at the present value of the lease payments not made at the commencement date, discounted using the rate implicit in the lease. The Group uses an incremental borrowing rate if the rate is not readily identifiable. Lease payments included in measuring the lease liability consist of:

- Fixed lease payments (including fixed implicit payments), less any leasing incentives,
- Variable lease payments that depend on an index or rate, initially measured using the index or rate at the start date,
- The amount expected to be payable by the lessee under the residual value guarantees,
- The exercise price of the purchase options, if the lessee is reasonably certain to exercise the options, and
- Penalty payments in the event of termination of the lease, if the terms of the lease reflect the exercise of the option to terminate the lease.

The lease liability is presented as a separate line item in the statement of financial position. The lease liability is subsequently measured by increasing the book value to reflect the interest on the lease liability (using the effective interest rate method) and by reducing the book value to reflect what has been paid for the lease.

The Group remeasures the lease liability (and makes the corresponding adjustment to the right-of-use asset) whenever:

- The contract term is changed or there is a change in the valuation of exercising the purchase option, in which case the lease obligation is remeasured by discounting the modified lease payments using the modified discount rate,
- The lease payments change because of a change in the index or rate or a change in the expected payment under the guaranteed residual value. In these cases, the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the modified lease payments using the initial discount rate (unless the lease payments change because of the change in the interest rate Float, in this case the adjusted discount rate is used).

The lease is modified and the lease modification is not accounted for as a separate lease, in which case the lease liability is remeasured by discounting the modified lease payments using a modified discount rate.

C) Short-term leases and leases with low value assets

Short-term leases are contracts with a lease term of 12 months or less. Impaired assets are items that do not meet the Group's capitalization limits and are considered immaterial to the Group's consolidated statement of financial position as a whole. Payments for short-term leases and leases of low-value assets are recognized on a straight-line basis in the statement of profit or loss.

4. USE OF JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses and actual results may differ from these. Estimates and assumptions are based on previous experience and factors that may include expecting suitable future events which are used to extend book period of dependent assets and liabilities from other resources and estimates and assumptions are continuously being evaluated. Revised accounting estimates are reviewed in the period in which the estimates are revised in the audit period and future periods, if the changed estimates affect current and future periods.

Significant judgments made by the management upon the adopting the Group's accounting policies correspond to the disclosed policies in last year's financial statements

Information about significant estimates and uncertainties and significant judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amount recognized in the consolidated financial statements are described in the following notes:

Measuring employee benefits Liabilities

The Group's obligation in respect of defined benefit plan is calculated by estimating the amount of future benefits that employees have earned in current and prior periods and discounting that amount to arrive at present value. The calculation is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. Judgments are used in estimating the actuarial assumptions. Key assumptions are disclosed in Note (17).

Impairment of non-financial assets

At each reporting date, the Group reviews the carrying amounts of its non-financial assets (other than inventories) to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

For impairment testing, assets are grouped together into the smallest group of assets that generates cash inflows from continuing use that are largely independent of the cash inflows of other assets or other CGUs.

The recoverable amount of an asset or CGU is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. Value in use is based on the estimated future cash flows, discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset or CGU.

An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount.

Impairment losses are recognised in the statement of profit or loss. They are collected first to reduce the carrying amount of any goodwill allocated to the CGU, and then to reduce the carrying amounts of the other assets in the CGU on a pro rata basis (Note 5).

Impairment of trade and other receivables

The Group follows an expected credit loss ("ECL") model for the impairment of trade receivables, this requires the Group to take into consideration certain estimates for forward looking factors while calculating the probability of default (Note 9 - 10).

Impairment for inventories

Management estimates the impairment to reduce the inventories to its net realizable value if the cost of the inventories is not recoverable or the inventories is damaged or become an obsolete in whole or in part, or if the selling price is lower than cost or any other factors that cause the net realizable value to become less than the carrying amount. Management valuation of net realizable value is based on the most reliable evidence at the time the estimates are used. These estimates consider fluctuations in prices or costs directly attributable to events occurring after the date of the financial statements to the extent that they confirm that the circumstances of such events exist as at end of the financial period (Note 8).

Useful lives of property, plant and equipment

The Management determines the estimated useful lives of property, plant and equipment for calculating depreciation. This estimate is determined after considering expected usage physical wear and tear. Management reviews the residual value and useful lives annually and change in amortisation charges (if any) are adjusted in current and future periods (Note 5).

Intangible assets

Expected useful lives of intangible assets are estimated at a specific point in time or in undefined period. As for intangible assets with defined useful lives, they are amortized during the period of the asset's economic useful life and the impairment is estimated when an indicator of impairment exists. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for intangible assets with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected amortization method of the future economic benefits included in the asset are accounted when a change in the period or method of amortization occurs, as needed, and they are treated as changes in the accounting estimates. The amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss in the expense category consistent with the function of the intangible asset.

Intangible assets with undefined useful life are not amortized, but they are tested on annually basis, whether in a separate way or at the level of cash generating units. The evaluation of the indefinite life of asset is reviewed annually to determine whether the use of the indefinite useful life is still justified. In the event that these justifications do not persist, the estimate of the useful life is changed to a specified useful life on a future basis (Note 6).

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 SEPTEMBER 2024

Fair value of assets and liabilities

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or, in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the access is available at that date. The fair value of a liability reflects its non-performance risk.

When measuring the fair value of an asset or liability, the Group uses observable market data as far as possible. Fair values are categorized into levels in a fair value hierarchy based on the inputs used in the valuation techniques as follows:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that can be accessed at the measurement date.

Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices). The Group has no assets or liabilities under this level.

Level 3: Inputs for assets and liabilities that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

If the inputs used to measure the fair value of an asset or liability falls into different levels of the fair value hierarchy, then the fair value measurement is categorized in its entirety in the same level of the fair value hierarchy as the lowest input level that is significant to the entire measurement.

The Group recognizes transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy at the end of the reporting period during which the change has occurred.

Liability of dismantling of property, plant and equipment

Typically arising from obligations to close, remove, site rehabilitate and dismantle a plant (together referred to as “demolition, site rehabilitation and decommissioning obligations”). Removal and site repair may include:

- stop the operation of the facility and dismantle the structures including the factory and buildings, disposal or treatment of waste,
- Rehabilitation of sites and land,

Restoration, repair and renewal of the affected areas.

The amount of work required and the associated costs depend on the requirements of current laws and regulations.

The liability generally arises when the asset is installed. All estimated future costs are discounted to their present value and capitalized as part of the 'cost of the asset'. Depreciation is an expense over the estimated life of the asset using the straight-line method (Note 18).

Significant judgment in determining the lease term for contracts that include a renewal option

The Group determines the lease term as the irrevocable term of the lease, plus any periods covered by an option to extend the lease if it is certain to be exercised, or any periods covered by an option to terminate the lease, if it is Certain not to be practiced.

The Group has the option, under some lease agreements, to lease the assets for an additional period of up to 5 years. The Group applies judgment in assessing whether it is reasonable to exercise the renewal option. That is, they consider all relevant factors that create an economic incentive to exercise the renewal option. After the start date, the Group reassesses the lease term if there is a material event or change in circumstances within its control that affects its ability to exercise (or not exercise) the renewal option.

Contingent liabilities

Contingent liabilities, depending on their nature, will be settled on the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more future events. Estimating these inherent liabilities involves the exercise of significant judgment and making estimates as to the outcome of future events.

Going concern

Going concern the consolidated financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis, which assumes that the Group will continue in business for the foreseeable future as reflected in the consolidated financial statements. The Group incurred a net loss during the year ended September 30, 2024. The Group's ability to continue in business depends on achieving additional cash flows from its business and its success in increasing its capital through the issuance of priority rights. The Group has assessed its ability to continue as a going concern and management is not aware of any material doubt that may raise significant doubt about the Group's ability to continue as a going concern.

Provisions

Provisions, by their nature, rely on estimates and evaluations to confirm whether recognition criteria are met, including an estimate of the likelihood of cash outflows. Management's estimates of provisions for environmental matters are based on an estimate of costs, after considering legal advice and other information currently available. It also includes provisions for end-of-service benefits and exit costs, if any, in addition to management's expression of judgment in estimating the expected cash outflows for end-of-service payments, site closure, or other exit costs. Provisions for contracts whose costs are greater than their benefits or uncertain liabilities involve management's best estimate of whether the cash outflows are probable.

Expected credit losses

The allowance for expected credit losses is determined by referring to a group of factors to ensure that the balances of receivables are not exaggerated as a result of the possibility that they will not be collected, based on the age from the date of initial recognition of the receivables. To measure expected credit losses, the receivables are grouped based on the characteristics of common credit risks and the number of Gone days. Expected loss rates have been derived from the Group's historical information and have been adjusted to reflect the expected future outcome, which includes any forward-looking information on macroeconomic factors such as inflation and GDP growth rate. The main assumptions are disclosed in Note No. (9).

Provisions for contract losses

Management estimates the decline in the value of contracts whose implementation costs are greater than their benefits. In the event of such contracts, the group's ability to cancel the contract is evaluated based on the potential loss amount and the value of the contract's penalty clause. If management is unable to determine the value of the penalty clause in the event If the contract is not fulfilled, the estimated loss may be considered less than the value of the penalty clause that can be incurred. The loss is recorded in the statement of profit or loss.

34. FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

The Group's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: Market risk (including currency risk, fair value and cash flow, interest rate risks and price risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

The Group's overall risk management program focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on the Group's financial performance.

Financial risk management framework

Risk management is carried out by senior management under policies approved by the Board of Directors. Senior management identifies, evaluates and hedges financial risks in close co-operation with the Group's operating units. The most important types of risk are credit risk, currency risk and fair value and cash flow interest rate risks.

The Board of Directors has overall responsibility for establishment and oversight of the Group's risk management framework. The executive management team is responsible for developing and monitoring the Group's risk management policies. The team regularly meets and any changes and compliance issues are reported to the Board of Directors through the audit committee.

Risk management systems are reviewed regularly by the executive management team to reflect changes in market conditions and the Group's activities. The Group, through its training and management standards and procedures, aims to develop a disciplined and constructive control environment in which all employees understand their roles and obligations.

The audit committee oversees compliance by management with the Group's risk management policies and procedures, and reviews the adequacy of the risk management framework in relation to the risks faced by the Group.

Financial instruments carried on the balance sheet include cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables, Financial assets at fair value through Profit or loss, loans, trade payables and accrued expenses and other payables. The particular recognition methods adopted are disclosed in the individual policy statements associated with each item.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market prices. Market risk comprises of three types of risk: Interest rate risk, currency risk and other price risk.

changes in buying and selling prices risk

These are the risks associated with changes in the prices of some commodities, which the Group is exposed to, which may have an undesirable impact on the Group's costs and cash flows. These commodity price risks arise from anticipated purchases of certain goods from raw materials used by the Group.

Interest rate risk

The loans obtained by the Group are carried at variable interest rates based at prevailing market interest rates.

Foreign currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates. The Group is not significantly exposed to fluctuations in foreign exchange rates during its normal course of business, as the Group's core transactions during the period were denominated in Saudi Riyals and US Dollars. Thus, there are no significant risks associated with transactions and balances denominated in US Dollars.

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that one party to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation and cause the other party to incur a financial loss. Concentration risk arises when a number of counterparties engaged in similar business activities or activities in the same geographical region or have economic features that would cause them to fail their contractual obligations. To reduce exposure to credit risk, the Group has developed a formal approval process whereby credit limits are applied to its customers, which are based on comprehensive customer ratings and past repayment rates.

The management also continuously monitors the credit exposure related to its customers and makes provision against the expected credit losses. Standing balances of customers are continuously monitored. Cash and cash equivalents are placed with national banks with sound credit ratings. Trade and other receivables are mainly due from local customers and 86% the Group's trade receivables are due from eight main customers. Trade receivables are stated at their estimated realizable values.

The Group's gross maximum exposure to credit risk is as follows:

Liquidity risk may result from an inability to sell financial assets quickly at an amount close to its fair value.
